New policy for voice mail

*635. SHRI K.M. KHAN: Will the Minister of COMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that Government have recently announced a new policy for voice mail/audiotex services;

(b) if so, the salient features thereof;

(c) the number of licences granted so far for the said services;

(d) whether it is also a fact that there is no licence fee for the service; and

(e) if so, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF COMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (SHRI PRAMOD MAHAJAN): (a) and (b) New policy for Voice Mail/Audiotex Service in terms of new Telecom Policy, 1999 (NTP-99) was announced on 16th July, 2001 by incorporating a new service namely, Unified Messaging Service (UMS) Salient features of the policy are given in the Statement. (See below)

(c) Presently, 27 licences are existing for these services out of which 22 licences have been granted since announcement of the new policy.

(d) There is no licence fee for operators of this service other than access service providers. However, the Licensee shall be required to pay levy towards Universal Service Obligations (USO) from the date of licence as per the terms and conditions decided by the Government on the recommendations of Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI).

New Telecom Policy, 1999 (NTP-99) has defined Cellular Mobile Telephone Service Providers, Fixed Service Providers and Cable Service Providers as Access Providers. Access Service Providers may provide Voice Mail/Audiotex/UMS to the subscribers falling within their service area on non discriminatory basis, without the need for obtaining a separate licence for Voice Mail/Audiotex/UMS, and the revenue earned by these operators through this Service, if any, shall be counted towards the revenue for the purpose of paying license fee under the Licence granted to them.

(e) Government have decided not to charge any licence fees from operators of this service as these service providers are content service providers and not telecommunication carriage service providers or network operators.
